Dragon’s Den comes to Rawmarsh!

Local Company shares its profits with Community Groups by asking for TV format presentations.

They promise they won’t be as unyielding or demanding as the TV Dragons, but they do want to give their money to the right idea, only this time, it’s not to make the Dragons a bit richer... its to make Rawmarsh a better place to live and work.

On Friday 25th November 2016, RCS Professional Development, the small publishing company, originally set up by the local comprehensive school will be sharing some of its profits with local community groups. However they will pick the projects to benefit using a type of Dragon’s Den event staged at Rawmarsh’s High Street Centre.

The company produces professional teaching programs and has been successful selling them all over the country for over a decade. The directors have been contributing to various local causes over the years, including buying one of the schools mini-buses. But this year they want to offer a series of funding awards to local community groups.
Chair of the Board of Directors, Mr Bob Bird said ‘We have been working for several years to raise money for local issues, and now we are in a position to share the success with as many local groups as possible’.

The ‘Dragons’ have made available an award of £5,000, two awards of £3,000 and several smaller awards which any Rawmarsh Community group with a bank account can apply for, for use within Rawmarsh and Parkgate.

To apply you can register for a pitch with the High St Centre, Rawmarsh, or even just turn up by 5pm on Friday 25th November. However you will need to be prepared. Every group will be given a 4 minute pitch, and then will receive up to 10 minutes of questions. Just as on the TV, there will be no powerpoint slides allowed, but props and creative thinking is encouraged.

After the pitch and the questions the Dragons will tell those at the pitch whether they have made the shortlist, and if so they should return at 7.30pm for the announcement of which groups have won the awards. It should be quite a moment, and the successful groups will walk away with a cheque on the night.

The judges, or ‘Dragons’ will be assessing each group’s pitch on how much it meets one or more of the following criteria.
1. Make the Area look better
2. Bring the Generations together
3. Reduce Isolation and Deprivation
4. Celebrate Rawmarsh’s identity & achievement
5. Improve Connection and Communication within Rawmarsh

The High Street Centre in Rawmarsh will be hosting the event. Caroline Langston, Centre Development Manager said, ‘We are always delighted to provide a home for community events and look forward to seeing the new activities and initiatives that this funding will enable locally.’
One pitch per person and one pitch per community group, but roll-up with a 4 minute presentation and a passion to see Rawmarsh a better place to live and work, and you could walk away with up to £5,000 for your community group or project.

Register by:
Friday 25th November 2016, 5pm
Awards to be announced 7.30-8pm that evening.

Terms and Conditions
Scheme is only open to not-for-profit organisations that deliver in Rawmarsh and Parkgate. Only one pitch per person, and only one pitch per organisation is permitted. The judges reserve the right to not make an award if the criteria are not met, or there are more pitches than grants available. There will be no appeal process and the judges decision is final.
Rawmarsh Hit Record Highs In Latest GCSE Results

CONGRATULATIONS to our recent Year 11 leavers who achieved an amazing 67.37% A*-C in both English and maths! A massive 11.35% increase from last year’s achievements! This ranks Rawmarsh School the fourth best school in the Rotherham LA.

Our English and Maths results have seen another significant improvement this year with 80% (68.7% in 2015) of students achieving A*-C grades in English and 72% (66.3% in 2015) of students in Maths.

In the new Progress 8 measure (introduced by the government to measure progress during the 5 years of secondary schooling), Rawmarsh students achieved on average over one third of a grade higher than expectations in every subject (Progress 8 score +0.38).

Our students have worked so hard to achieve outstanding results, we are extremely proud of them and would like to congratulate them all. They have been a super year group, we have always had high hopes for them and they have fulfilled all our expectations.

Well done to all our students and thank you to the staff, parents and carers for all their support. We wish our class of 2016 every success in the future. Next year I see no reason why our rise shouldn’t continue.
Sports Dinner

Another successful Sports Presentation Evening at New York Stadium.

Over 200 students, parents and staff attended the event. Johnny Nelson World Champion boxer attended the evening to award the trophies as well as giving an inspirational speech to the students.

The students looked amazing and this was matched by how they presented themselves on the evening. These students have represented the school throughout the year and deserve the awards they were presented with.

The PE Department are truly proud of all their efforts and hope they improve upon their successes of this year.

Rotherham Rounders Champions

After weeks of dedicated training the Year 8 girls were crowned Rotherham Schools Champions.

It was a wet and windy Saturday morning where they had two games to play after winning their tournament.

The first was against Maltby who they beat by three rounders to get through to the final. They met Wales in the final who had already beaten Oakwood. After some excellent batting, particularly Evie Litchfield and Beth Marshall, we got four rounders. We then went into field. Again we were outstanding, and won by one and a half rounders.

Introducing the New Fitness Suite here at Rawmarsh...

Rawmarsh fitness suite has had a face lift over the Summer Holidays.

It now boasts state of the art fitness equipment including treadmills, cross trainers, rowers, bikes as well as a hand bike. It has numerous resistance machines and a selection of dumbbells, medicine balls and kettle bells.

This space will be used in school and it will also open after school to students. Access to the fitness suite is Tuesday 3.10-4.15 all years are welcome.

Rawmarsh represented our school with pride and each one of our students were magnificent.

There were some stand out performances and some impressive Y7s that are going to be exciting to watch and keep up with during their time at Rawmarsh. Well done Team Rawmarsh!

All students will have a full induction and have support to build a fitness programme to suit them. Students can’t wait to use this inspiring space, and are really excited that, here at Rawmarsh, they will have access to both in and out of lessons.
Owen is a former Rawmarsh student who now studies at Wakefield Performing Arts College (CAPA) and achieved an A, 8 A*s, 3 As and a B in his GCSEs in the summer. This is his recollection of the day he received his outstanding results.

It was all surreal really – it still is, and I’m certain it will be for a very long time! This was my third year of results day and it gets no easier! I felt sick, nervous and saddened that this was one of my final memories in school. Opening the envelope felt like 5 years of hard work had culminated into one large tidal wave of emotion and I never knew how much one single piece of paper could embody so many different feelings. But in all honesty, if you work hard enough; for long enough (not just the two weeks before exams) you have nothing to worry about and simply know that whatever you get given is what you deserve and, more importantly, your best. A massive thank you to all at Rawmarsh – managerial and teaching staff - for making it such a special day and simply a highlight of 5 fantastic years. Work hard. Hard work beats talent, when talent doesn’t work hard, and hard work ALWAYS pays off.

Earlier this summer, Rawmarsh School students linked up with Red Road FM in Sheffield to perform their own radio show live, and smashed the radio station’s highest audience figures for the year.

Working in teams of three or four, students were asked to produce a music line up as well as a script for the show in advance. The project was run by English Teacher Mr Skirrow and was assisted by the radio show hosts Aaron and Trevor, who delivered four intense after school sessions where students recorded, edited and scripted their shows, and also learnt about the art of broadcasting. All participants put in huge amounts of effort to get everything prepared in time and the shows went off without mistakes, receiving a lot of positive feedback from listeners.

To take part, students had to earn their place by writing short letters or recording a brief video clip explaining why they should be chosen over their rivals. With lots volunteering to choose from, the difficult responsibility of selecting the most hard working and successful students was left to Mr Skirrow. Twenty two aspiring broadcasters - including some new Year 7 students who had only been at the school for two weeks - were given the opportunity to broadcast live. The most confident students were even allowed to control the mixing desk where they could take charge of playing the music and audio clips, as well as operating the microphones while live on air.

The highlight, of course, was finding out that we had achieved the best listener figures of 2016 – something that we were extremely proud of. All students were extremely grateful for the opportunity, and were all given a copy of their live radio show on CD as a memento.
Y7 students raise £83 for Macmillan cancer care

Y7 students have taken part in a Macmillan coffee morning, and brought in their home baking to sell to staff and fellow students.

After a great effort, the students, led by Head of Year Mrs Hazzard, managed to raise £83 for Macmillan cancer care.

There was a big selection of cakes, buns, biscuits and brownies as well as cake pops and chocolate mud sandwiches! Thank you to everyone who came along to support us and the cause.

Well done to all of those who brought in their home baking and contributed towards a very successful morning.

Fantastic effort Y7!

Schools Music Week

In the last week of September, Rawmarsh Community School took part in the national Schools Music Week event.

As part of the week, we had various different events taking place in and out of lessons, for example an inter-form karaoke competition between the tutor groups and lunchtime open-mic sessions for staff and students to come and show their vocal talents. We also did a survey of the whole school to find out what styles of music people enjoyed and just exactly what they thought of Justin Bieber! It was a fantastic week with lots of students and staff taking part and we look forward to an even bigger Schools Music Week next year.

Literacy Homework Competition Winner

Have you ever wondered what Rawmarsh will look like in 100 years time? This is what Literacy students at RCS have been imagining for their homework this week. It’s all part of their topic for this half term: The Future. Here’s our winning entry.

Life in 2116 by Kaydence Taylor (Y7)

You won’t believe what is happening in 2116!

Quickly, I ran out of the portal and I saw an amazing view. But one thing that caught my eye was a huge trampoline that you can bounce really high on. How exhilarating is that? You can bounce as high as a sky scraper. I also saw people teleporting from place to place on a teleporting pad. You can teleport to the other side of the world in a matter of seconds. I went from Australia to New York as quick as a flash. I think it is going to be real fun in 2116 because there will be lots of new crazy inventions.

Rotherham Art Celebration Evening

Artwork created by RCS students was put on display at Rotherham Art Celebration Evening last week.

The event was attended by both the Mayor and the local MP, John Healey.
As a village mentioned in the Domesday Book we might expect Rawmarsh to have a long and interesting history, and it has, but the development of industry locally from the 18th Century led to the destruction of many older buildings. Much more recently the conversion of the High Street to dual carriageway and the construction of the Rawmarsh Shopping Centre in the 1960s led to much further destruction of the historic built environment. Despite these changes it is possible to find considerable evidence of Rawmarsh’s history in what remains.

The parish church of St Mary’s was once a late Norman stone building but this was largely replaced in the mid-19th Century by a new church that incorporated a small amount of the Norman fabric around the main doorway and inside the church today the remains of an ancient decorated stone cross of the late 12th Century can be seen. Just below the church, near to where the ancient village pound was located, the War Memorial was built. It was unveiled in 1928 after much local controversy and stands proudly today near the top of Rawmarsh Hill. Across the road from the church is the former home of the Rectors of St Mary’s, one of the oldest surviving buildings in Rawmarsh. The foundations of the Rectory were laid in June 1752 and there is a record of new sash windows being inserted in 1797. This has been converted into flats but is still a protected building. Above St Mary’s is the church hall, rather an unassuming building but one that was used as an infant school late in the 19th Century and on 16th March 1900 a new men’s club was opened in it with a Reading Room and ‘Fencing and boxing for the muscular Christians’!

The road widening in the 60s saw the demolition of many buildings beyond the church but some, set further back, survived including Sunnyside Cottage which before 1850 had been home to Dame Hawley who was in charge of
The Rawmarsh and Parkgate Local History Group

This group meets 6 times a year in the High Street Centre. The meetings are always on Saturdays and begin at 2.30pm. If you like to talk about the local area in the past and listen to local history presentations, this could be for you. Admission to each meeting is £1 for members and £2 for others.

For 2017 our meeting will be on 21st January, 18th March, 13th May, 15th July, 23rd September and 11th November.

several local potteries. Further along, the older houses on Ash Mount survive beside the Methodist Church where the foundation stones were laid on Easter Monday 1907. Across the road the Star Inn was probably established centuries ago although the present building dates back to just before the Second World War. Beyond it the premises of Clark’s undertaking business are centuries old and remains of a possible parish oven were reportedly found in its walls in the past.

Close to the Methodist Church (the High Street Centre) the long line of buildings, referred to on old maps as Philip’s Row, survive although somewhat truncated by the road widening.

(Parkin’s wool and haberdashery shop, formerly Miss Holroyd’s, was demolished from the end but the rest of the Row remains). A further old cottage is found beyond before the former site of Rawmarsh Hall (and later the Swimming Baths) is reached. Moving on to the Hall in Rosehill Park this notable building has been transformed a number of times in its almost 200 year history. It is thought to have been constructed in the early 1830s and was associated with the Firth family for much of its early history. In 1851 it was lived in by Arthur Maude and his family who moved there from the West Indies. Later, during the First World War, it provided a safe haven for refugees from Belgium.

Perhaps the most encouraging aspect of this trawl through the parish of Rawmarsh’s built environment is just how much I have left out that really deserved to be included. No Westfield House, no Queen’s Hotel, no Warren Vale cottage and no mention of Upper Haugh, nor Ryecroft, nor Kilnhurst. What would you have included?
A new Daycare and Nursery School year
Choosing where your child goes to nursery is one of the most important decisions you will ever make for your child. Research demonstrates that the early years of a child’s development and education are the most important of their whole school life. You will be making a very wise decision in selecting Rawmarsh Children’s Centre and Nursery School following another very successful year in which our Daycare was judged Outstanding by OFSTED alongside our already Outstanding Nursery School and where children in both progressed impressively. Parent feedback (which we value highly) last year was extremely positive and so too was parent involvement in our hugely popular play and stay sessions which we actively encourage parents to attend.

We have FREE places available for 2, 3 and 4 year olds - if you would like more information or would like your child to attend our Daycare or Nursery School, you can contact us on 01709 336898 and we will be happy to place your child’s name on our waiting list.

Summer Trip Success
A huge thank you to all of the families who have supported our summer trips to Cleethorpes, Sundown and White Post Farm. A wonderful time was had by all.

Woodland Trust
The changes that occur in the nursery garden, throughout the different seasons is very often the starting point for teaching in the nursery school. The Woodland Trust has awarded the centre their prestigious Gold Award in celebration and recognition of the desire to pass on an deep understanding of the natural world to children.

This work has involved working as a team to plant new hedgerow and native trees. Harvesting and then tasting fruits that the children have grown in the wildlife area and the orchard. Imagining how the garden must appear from the point of view of the animals in the garden.

The good work doesn’t stop there as children are going to make jam from the apples, large scale art pieces using materials found in the garden and create their own tree folk from clay to live in the elf garden. Winter vegetables and spring bulbs are being planted so that children can see for themselves the journey from seed to plant as they learn to care and take responsibility for protecting nature.

Platinum Award here we come!

Our Family Story... Single dad with two children
Helping young families: Scott is a single dad with 2 children aged 3 and 22 months. Although initially resistant to centre services, Scott is now accessing the Centre daily and has a family support worker to support him with the changing needs of the children, finances and to offer support and advice in other areas. He is looking towards the future and is keen to access support with training, jobs searches etc.
Parent’s voice:  “When Family Support first got involved I was in a mess and unstable, but now I feel supported and looked after. I have been supported with my finances and accessing activities, and feel relieved of stress and pressure.

Both my children have learnt lot in Day Care and the staff are always approachable. I am able to talk to staff about things and they provide me with information about the children, like how to keep them safe”.

“I have attended the parenting puzzle (parenting programme) and have learnt a lot, especially using positive words.

Staff make me feel comfortable and I always feel nice after visiting the centre”.

Summer Fayre
Our Summer Fayre was a huge success raising over £1,100, including a kind donation from Councillor David Sheppard’s Leadership Fund received by Vice Chair of Governors, James Fisher, all of which will be used to subsidise future events and trips for local families. Thank you!

Young People aged 16-25!
Support available in Rawmarsh at the High Street Centre

The High Street Centre works closely with young people and the Youth Support Service. We decided to find out more!

Here we speak to Jenny Lawless to get more details! Interview with Jenny Lawless Early Help Youth Support Worker.

Q: What age group do you work with?
A: Young people aged 16-17 living in Rawmarsh.

Q: Is your job fun?
A: LOVL Mmmm... I’m not sure that you’d call it fun! My job is very diverse – I work with families with babies and teenagers. It can be very challenging and frustrating, but it can also be very rewarding when I’ve worked with a young person to help them get a job and all the hard work and effort pays off in the end.

Q: If you could have any job in the world what would it be?
A: A retired Youth Support Worker

Q: Can you help me look for a job or a training course?
A: Yes of course, in the past we have worked with the High Street Centre and helped young people develop a CV, apply for jobs on-line, visited local employers and looked at training courses that the young person may benefit from.

Q: Will you find me a job?
A: Finding a job is hard – but together with the High Street Centre we can sit with you on a 1:1 basis and help you apply professionally, promoting your skills and getting you ready for interview. It helps a great deal if the young person that I’m working with is willing to do training and voluntary work to help them get the skills, experience and references they need for their CV. Employers are more impressed if a young person can show that they are willing, flexible and reliable.

Q: I’ve no idea what I want to do. How can I decide?
A: It’s useful if you can think about what you’re good at and build on what you really like doing – hobbies and interests can often lead to jobs and careers that you will enjoy. Be realistic! If you want to earn good money you will need to continue learning when you leave school. You can continue learning by getting a job and doing an apprenticeship, going on to sixth form, going to college or training. It’s worth remembering that to cope with the level of study required for an apprenticeship ideally you will need maths and English @ GCSE grade C (new grade structure 5-9). If you don’t get these grades at school you will need to do them when you leave. There are lots of online resources to help you find out about jobs to help you decide what job might suit you. Talking to teachers, family and friends can help, but talking to a qualified advisor like me can help you to think about jobs and things you might never have thought of. I left school with no qualifications what can I do next? * There are lots of options, it depends what YOU want to do. Log onto www.youthi.org.uk, Talk to us or the High Street Centre and we can look at options available for you.

Q: How do you and the High Street Centre work together? Who do I contact?
A: We work intensively with young people in Rawmarsh and link with the High Street Centre as they offer a drop in especially for young people. If you are 16-17 contact your local Early Help Youth Support Worker Team on 01709 851755. If you are 16-25 contact the High Street Centre or just drop in on Fridays at 11am or call 01709 719478.

Coffee morning

Friday 18th November 2016 at the High Street Centre, 10.30am-12noon. Everyone Welcome – Refreshments and scrumptious treats available. Raffle on the day – all proceeds will go to Children In Need.

If anyone wants to donate buns, cake or biscuit please let us know by Friday 11th November. Please contact 01709 719478 or email rawmarshgetactive@hotmail.co.uk

Childcare for young people on the Autistic Spectrum

Each Monday we plan: Fun activities for everyone, to build relationships for young people to make new friends, to help improve young people’s social skills and offer a wide range of choice and opportunities.

Activities include: Arts and crafts, sports, lots of fun and exciting games, team games, X-box and Wii.

Primary school children start time 3.15-5pm. Secondary school children start time 5-6.30pm. This program is FREE and fully supported by BBC Children in Need.

Booking is essential, contact Sarah at the High Street Centre, Rawmarsh on: 01709 719478 or activaterawmarsh@gmail.com
